Item 8.01. Other Events

In July 2018, Intellia Therapeutics, Inc. (the “Company”) and Regeneron Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (“Regeneron”) entered into a Co-Development and Co-Promotion Agreement (the “TTR Co/Co”) for transthyretin amyloidosis (“ATTR”), which Regeneron had selected as the first of its 10 targets pursuant to the License and Collaboration Agreement between the Company and Regeneron, dated April 11, 2016 (the “Regeneron Agreement”). On December 13, 2019, Regeneron informed the Company that it would exercise its right under the TTR Co/Co to modify its share of worldwide development costs and profits from 50% to 25%, effective 6 months after its notice. Under the terms of the TTR Co/Co, Regeneron will continue to co-fund development costs and will be entitled to 25% of worldwide profits of any resulting ATTR products. Intellia continues to lead the development and commercialization of any resulting ATTR products. Intellia and Regeneron continue to collaborate under the Regeneron Agreement under which, subject to certain conditions, Regeneron may obtain exclusive rights for up to 10 targets (which, at this time, includes ATTR), as well as opt to co-develop and co-commercialize up to five liver targets selected by Intellia, during the collaboration term.
